From a phone call:

A rider saw a large avalanche in one of the bowls around the corner of Lionhead avalanched. It likely occurred on Friday, March 1. There were holes dug in the snow indicating a buried person or sled. This is the same slope that killed a 19 year old from MN on December 28, 2006. They conducted a beacon search on the debris to make sure no one was buried.

Advisory Region
Lionhead Range
Longitude
-111.32W
Latitude
44.71N
Avalanche Details: Large avalanche in Lionhead_likely burial/caught
Lionhead Range, 2024-03-02